

COME SEE US AT VINEXPO BORDEAUX 2019

With Albéric Bichot and Guillaume Deglise

The only leading Burgundy producer present at Vinexpo, the House of Albert Bichot intends to confirm its international ambitions, with the help of Guillaume Deglise who will be coming to Vinexpo for the first time in his new role as Managing Director of the House. There is a great deal of other news to share too... See you in Hall 1 DE 203.

Launch of the “Bourgogne Côte d’Or” appellation with “Secret de Famille”

On the occasion of the 10th anniversary of “Secret de Famille” (Chardonnay and Pinot Noir), Albert Bichot is developing its duo of cuvées. They now bear the “Bourgogne Côte d’Or” appellation and feature entirely revisited packaging that is more streamlined and modern.

Tasting of the first organic wines vinified by Albert Bichot

Albert Bichot is developing a range of organic wines crafted from grapes purchased from long-time partner growers, in a dozen appellations. Three of these wines will be up for tasting: the 2017 Bourgogne Hautes-Côtes de Nuits, Savigny-Les-Beaune, and Bourgogne Chardonnay. Furthermore, beginning with the 2018 vintage, all of Albert Bichot estate wines from the Côte d’Or and Mercurey will be certified organic.

Introduction of the 2017 vintage, expressive and sheer elegance

2017 went down as one of those hot, dry years that nevertheless benefitted from favourable alternating periods of cooler temperatures and rain. The growth cycle came to a close with an early harvest at the beginning of September. This vintage boasts expressive, elegant red wines from their early youth and fragrant, flavourful white wines with taut, saline notes on the finish. A fine vintage to discover at the show.
